The Late Henry Waterhouse

HENRY WATERHOUSE IS DEAD

Henry Waterhouse died at his Nuanu Avenue residence this morning, shortly after 6 o'clock. His death was peaceful and painless, just an ebbing away of the wonderful vitality that has prevented dissolution for so long. At his bedside when the end came were his wife, his sister, Mrs. W. H. Mice of Kaula, his daughter, Mrs. A. B. Wood, and his son, Albert Waterhouse, besides other members of the household. The only immediate relatives absent was his daughter Mrs. Corbett, who sailed by the China for her home in New York, ten days ago after a stay here of some time, and his brother W. Waterhouse who returned to California just before the holidays.

At 9 o'clock this morning there was a simple service held at the house at which only the immediate family were present. The body will be cremated, that being a wish expressed by Mr. Waterhouse some days ago, in one of his periods of entire consciousness. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence and the ashes will be interred in the family lot in Nuanu cemetery.

Mr. Waterhouse had been a sufferer for some months from sclerosis of the spinal cord. Much of the time he was in a state of coma. During periods of the progress of the ailment suffering was severe. For the past several weeks the patient had not suffered much pain. His vitality kept up the functions of the body, life slowly exhausting itself.

About three weeks ago Mr. Waterhouse experienced a period of several hours of entire consciousness free from pain. During this period the members of the family were all present. He expressed a number of wishes in regard to his funeral arrangements, and in regard to family affairs. He recognized that death was approaching, and viewed it calmly, cheerfully, in the strong faith of his religious training and experience. He expressed himself as ready to die, if that was the will of Providence.

QUEEN'S HOSPITAL WANTS SUBSIDY

An appeal was filed in the Supreme Court this morning in behalf of the trustees of the Queen's Hospital, from a decision of the auditor refusing to pay the subsidy to the hospital, as appropriated by the last legislature and paid every month up to last October. The petition sets forth the following correspondence between Fisher and Robertson & Wilder, attorneys for the hospital:

"J. H. Fisher, Esq., Auditor of the Territory of Hawaii: Sir,—Demand is hereby made upon you to issue to The Queen's Hospital warrants upon the Treasury for the unpaid installments due said corporation under and pursuant to the subsidy appropriated by the legislature, that is to say:

"For the month of November, 1903, $1666.66; for the month of December, 1903, $1666.66; for the month of January, 1904, $1666.66.

"Yours respectfully,

"THE QUEEN'S HOSPITAL.

"By its attorneys, Robertson & Wilder."

To this answer was made by as follows:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 15th making demand on me for certain warrants for the unpaid installments due the Queen's Hospital under and pursuant to the subsidy appropriated by the legislature."

"In answer thereto I beg to state that under the opinion of the Attorney General I must decline to issue the said warrants. Yours very truly,

"J. H. FISHER,

"Auditor Territory of Hawaii."

The petition sets forth that the hospital is not run for profits or revenue and treats patients who cannot pay free of charge, and that it is supported by public charities and legislative assistance. The court is asked to order the Auditor to issue warrants as demanded.

The S. S. Rosecrans which arrived this morning from San Francisco will take mail to the coast.

IN RE DAVIS

George A. Davis has filed still another document in the Supreme Court, in the matter of his petition for a rehearing of the disbarment case. It brings forward some new points, attacking the jurisdiction of the court and claiming that the order of disbarment is void.

THE GOVERNOR RETURNS TODAY

Governor George R. Carter and party returned this morning from their Hawaii trip. The party boarded the steamer Kinau at Kawaihae last night. There was a strong southerly wind blowing with considerable swell running at that port but the Governor and those with him succeeded in getting into the boats and out to the steamer without mishaps. Rough weather was experienced coming back. Governor Carter did not suffer from sickness but Secretary Atkinson was feeling badly.

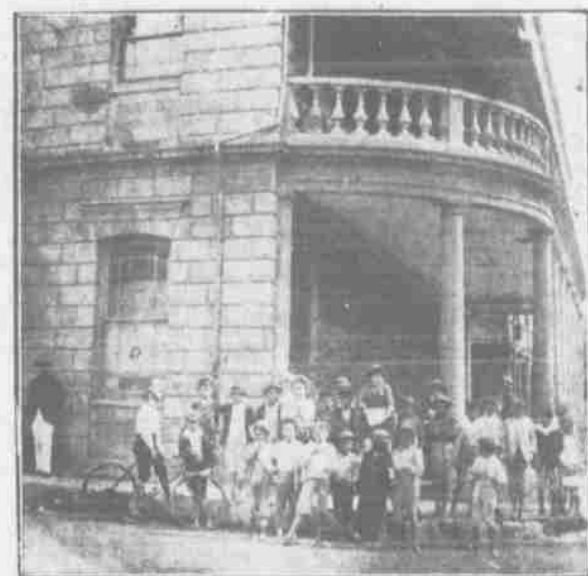

Governor Carter took a carriage and drove to his home up Nuuanu Valley immediately after leaving the steamer. He is looking well and his trip evidently agreed with him. He expressed himself as delighted with the result of his visit to Hawaii. Louis Meyer of the Advertiser staff who accompanied the gubernatorial party returned on the Kinau.

CRITICISING THE SUPPLY

The naval supply ship Supply sailed unexpectedly this morning for San Francisco. Considerable criticism has been directed at the action of the officers of the vessel in getting away without notifying the postal officials.

Inasmuch as there is to be a shortage of mail steamers for some days owing to the withdrawal of the S. S. Nippon Maru, business people are put to considerable bother about getting their correspondence away. The postal officials tried yesterday to ascertain when the vessel was to depart. They could get no satisfaction regarding the movements of the vessel. It was thought that she would not get away for several days. About 9:30 o'clock this morning she hiked up her anchor and slipped away for the mainland leaving people with mail in the lurch.

SOME OF THE NEWSBOYS WHO SELL THE STAR

This is a picture of some of the bright newsboys who sell The Star. It was taken at the Bethel street corner of the Post Office by a gentleman who is visiting the Islands for the third or fourth time, and who has besides traveled pretty well over the world. Though in years he is several times older than any of the boys pictured in this group, he has a young heart, and is known and liked by these boys and many others.

Mr. Dooley On The War

"Th' paper says Roosha's licked by th' Japs," said Hennessey, "an' I know 'twould be so, fr I mind Hogan said—" "Ye ar-re a fule, Hennessey," said Mr. Dooley. "Tisn't a rule war yet. Most iv th' lads in the vast razorless wastes iv th' Czar's empire haven't heard yet iv th' outbreak. An' they won't on'til they ar-re sint fr. Hennessey."

"Twasn't a fair start, Hennessey. Th' pay-rites didn't shake hands an' square off. Th' Rooshan admiral was pursuing th' arts iv peace when th' fight began an' he thought 'twas only a celebration iv th' successful arrival iv th' las' diplomatic note. He was attending to th' first booty iv a Rooshan, instructing his youngest in th' national art iv saying three K's at wance, when th' Japs announced a war be starting."

"Twas a destructive inagament, Hennessey. Raygardless iv th' terror iv a Rooshan oath, th' Japs dashed in an' sunk some iv th' croosers sival times. Others were rindered useless on'til th' next fight, be running away.
